ImprovLab is predominantly a research space for work in the field of Critical Studies in Improvisation. However, all are welcome to request booking this space. We have kept fees as reasonable as possible to ensure that this space is used for a vibrant range of activities that benefit a breadth of communities.

In order to prioritize ImprovLab's central mandated uses, pricing for ImprovLab booking falls into 3 different categories:

Category 1

- Researchers and partners named on ImprovLab's Canada Foundation for Innovation (CFI) grant using the space for CFI-related, improvisation-based research

Category 2

- University of Guelph faculty, departments, and other campus units using the space for any arts-based research/activities
- IICSI partner organizations using the space for research/activities
- Researchers and partners named on the CFI grant using the space for non-CFI-related research or activities
- Students in the IMPR (Critical Studies in Improvisation) MA / PhD programs using the space for either IMPR research or other research/activities. (Note: each student will be granted 3 complimentary hours per month (non-cumulative) to book the space)

Category 3

- External arts organizations, artists, festivals, businesses, etc., using the space for any research/activities.

NOTE: CFI-related activities are specific research activities carried out in accordance with IICSI's Canada Foundation of Innovation grant. If you are not working in collaboration with a researcher listed on this grant, you are conducting non-CFI-related research.
